See the difference

Kensington Ultimate Presenter™: K75233EU

Unite your workforce wherever they're based, and deliver the same high standard of engagement with every presentation. Kensington's presentation solutions digitise the process to help you guide every participant at the same pace. Kensington Ultimate Presenter™ uses KensingtonWorks™ software to control your cursor on local and remote displays, directing the attention of remote workers as you present – so everyone's on the same page.

Make every meeting easier to follow by pointing virtually on bright LED displays or monitors, on smart boards, in classrooms, and in large spaces with multiple presentation screens.

Use it with web collaboration tools like WebEx®, GoToMeeting®, Skype™ and join.me®, and even remote attendees can follow along in real time – exactly like they would if they were in the room.

Customise the pointer with easy-to-use KensingtonWorks™ software, for your own pointer size, shape and speed, as well as adding a custom logo to your cursor, to suit your presentation.

Presenter Expert Green Laser: K72426EU

For the mobile worker or the huddle space, Kensington presentation solutions support quick, effective meetings around whatever display is available. The Presenter Expert Green Laser with Cursor Control makes it easy to maintain control of onscreen content, and the green laser boasts ten times higher brightness than its red counterpart – for improved visibility against flat panel displays, professional displays, and more.

Wireless Presenter with Red Laser: 33374EU

Guide your audience with Kensington presentation solutions. With one of the best selling presenters in the market, business leaders, meeting hosts, and occasional travellers can all present with confidence. Kensington's Wireless Presenter with Red Laser supports your narrative, wherever you're sharing it, to get the most from your content.
